(THE RESULTS)

WINNERS

First to the Treasure

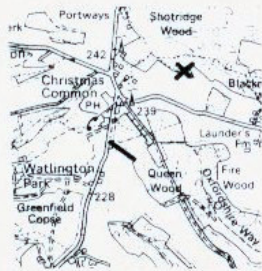

Steve Morris

Winner on points (with 4846 out of 5012 points)

Nick Hassell

Special Prize (for getting ALL the quiz questions right)

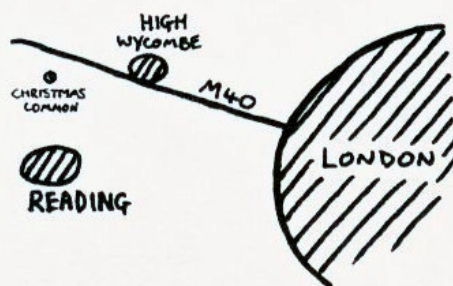

Alison Dukes

The Armchair Treasure Hunt led you around the country to various places, found at the end of each section. Each section also contained questions, some of which possessed numeric answers. By taking the equivalent letter in the place-name to the numeric answers in that section the letters of the burial site were found. Rearranging these gave this answer.

- BEER _____
- BOARS HEAD _____
- BRAMLEY _____
- GOOSE HAM _____
- CHEDDAR _____
- PORT _____
- ALMONDBANK _____
- PUDDING LANE _____
- BRANDY WHARF _____
- REST AND BE THANKFUL _____

CHRISTMAS COMMON

The first letter of each of the remaining (non-numeric) answers spelled out the message:

CONGRATULATIONS, YOU HAVE BECOME THE FIRST APRIL FOOL and the illuminated letters at the head of each section spelled out RED HERRING

Many thanks to everyone who entered - the answers should be with you soon.
